

THE HOME, ITS PROBLEMS AND INTERESTS

Portugal's Queen Is a Most Enthusiastic Medical Student

AMELIE, QUEEN OF PORTUGAL.
Known as the "Doctor Queen" of Europe.

Queen Amelie of Portugal is described by one who knows whereof he speaks as one of the most vivacious and intelligent of modern Queen Consorts. She was born at Twickenham when her father and mother, the Comte and Comtesse de Paris, were first exiled, and her girlhood was spent between England and France. Her marriage with the heir to the throne of Portugal is said to have so alarmed the French government that it led indirectly to the permanent exile of her father.

Queen Amelie has many tastes and interests, but her special hobby is medicine, to which she has devoted much serious study. Through her efforts Lisbon now boasts of one of the best modern hospitals in Europe. The Queen is an expert horsewoman and an accomplished swimmer. A few years ago she won a medal for rescuing two children from drowning.

ALL ABOUT THE HOUSE HINTS AND SUGGESTIONS

A Few Helpful and Economical Devices for the Thrifty Housekeeper.

Cornstarch is recommended as a most effective agent for the removal of grease.

Candle shades are almost exclusively of headwork, the officer and opalescent effects being the handsomest.

If the lamp chimney resists all efforts to make it bright and shining by the use of water, try a little alcohol.

Knives and forks not in general use will keep bright and rust free if lightly rubbed with olive oil before they are put away.

Sponging woodwork with water in which a generous quantity of alum has been boiled is said to be an excellent method of keeping away obnoxious insects.

With kaiserzinn in silver effects most folks have become acquainted during the past few years. The gold finish and also the bronze are not so well known, but are exceedingly attractive.

Lunch cloths for bungalow or country home fitted up with rustic or mission furnishings are made of coarse linen in gray or tan shades, with borders in some gay, contrasting tone.

From across the seas comes the information that if a piece of flannel or cotton wool be well saturated with turpentine, kept moist and hung up in a room flies will give the apartment a wide berth.

Since the shirt waist has become a dominant feature in the feminine wardrobe the question of the proper laundering of the washable variety is an important one. The tubable shirt waist can most certainly be marred if not made in the laundry and therefore a special board, which is said to facilitate the ironing of shirt waists, comes as a boon.

A laundry device that is as inexpensive as it is helpful is a zinc sprinkler that distributes the water evenly over the clothes. Competent laundresses claim that even sprinkling is essential for good results in laundering.

For the traveler is a case that comes in handy if luncheon is carried on board train or boat. The case is about the size of a cigar box and contains knife, fork, spoon, tea strainer and collapsible cup.

A woman who has just come into possession of a new traveling bag is likely to appreciate a gift in the form of a sachet, for the bag, as space is usually at a premium, this sachet should be made as thin as possible. Use a single layer of wadding and cover with thin silk or mull.

If the homemaker cares to take the trouble to make it so, the kitchen may be as attractive from the point of view of beauty and color harmony as the library, reception, or dining rooms. Simply take care to match the color of the wall and floor covering and the woodwork and select pots and pans of one material and tint. If the prevailing colors of wall paint, linoleum and woodwork are brown and white, select brown and white agateware for saucepans, kettles, jars, and holders of various sorts and have the pots and pans of gleaming copper. Equally good effects may be obtained with blue and white agate or earthenware of gray and white, the main object being to secure uniformity of color and not the hodgepodge collection of utensils that is so often found in the kitchen.

TOPIC TIPS.

Small empire fans are most fashionable for dress occasions.

Rose-printed batiste at fifteen cents is almost as pretty as the flowered nets.

Colonials sets, consisting of four little buckles in French gilt, are effective for the shirt waist.

Long fan chains of small gilt beads are pretty and cost less than a dollar.

This simple, though modish gown, is of golden brown voile, trimmed only with tucks. The folded collar, girdle and cuffs are of deep cream taffeta, which blends beautifully with the color of the gown.

Lady Managers of Fair Ready for Bitter Row

May Demand Resignation of Secretary Lavina Egan, and Her Friends in Turn May Oust Mrs. Daniel Manning.

ST. LOUIS, July 14.—Local newspapers say there is likely to be a lively battle when the board of lady managers of the fair meet Secretary Lavina Egan on the floor of their hall today. The warfare between opposing factions has reached an acute stage.

It now seems probable that if the members of the board who are friendly to Miss Egan demand her resignation today, as seems likely, Miss Egan's friends on the board and probably a few very influential ones on the outside, but in close connection with the fair, will in turn demand the resignation of Mrs. Daniel Manning, president of the board of lady managers.

Miss Egan has stated in most positive terms that she will not resign her place, and she has this advantage:

The board must file charges of a damaging nature against her concerning the conduct of her office, and sustain them, before they can dismiss her.

PRISON-BORN BABY HAS BIRTHDAY FETE IN JAIL

Child of Murderess, Who Has Never Seen Outside World, Given Special Dinner.

READING, Pa., July 14.—Alma Edwards, three years old, had a birthday party in the Berks county jail yesterday. She is the daughter of Mrs. John Edwards, convicted of the murder of her husband, now under sentence of death.

In honor of her birthday anniversary, Alma was allowed to roam about the jail, and was treated to a special dinner by Warden Detrick. The prison inspectors held their monthly meeting, and each of them remembered the little girl with a gift which brought joy to the heart of the little one.

John Edwards was murdered at his home in Stoneburg on the night of July 4, 1901, and his wife was arrested two days later. Little Alma was born in jail July 15 of that year. She has never been out of prison and knows nothing of the outside world.

GIVES $3,300,000 BOND.

NEW YORK, July 14.—Alexander McDonald, of this city and Cincinnati, has administered of the estate of his deceased wife, Laura McDonald, yesterday filed a bond for $3,300,000 in the surrogate's office. At the same time he qualified as guardian of his two grandchildren by filing a bond for $50,000 for each.

CARDINAL GIBBONS IS SUED FOR $530

Contractor Claims That Sum for Work Done in Sparrows Point Church.

BALTIMORE, July 14.—Cardinal Gibbons has been sued in the circuit court at Towson by Daniel Harding, of that place, for $530.48 for payment for repairs which Harding claims to have made to St. Luke's Roman Catholic Church at Sparrows Point.

The suit is the outcome of a dispute concerning repairs, which were covered by a contract Harding made with the church. Harding holds that he did work to the amount of $530.48 beyond what his contract called for. The Rev. John Gaynor, the pastor of St. Luke's, contends that the work was specified in the contract and refuses to pay Harding's bill for extra services.

The work was done about three months ago and Harding was paid $1,600, the full amount of his contract. Cardinal Gibbons, by virtue of his office, is the business head of the church.

PIANO AND ORGAN WORKERS.

BOSTON, Mass., July 14.—The presentation of the biennial report of President Frank Helle, of Chicago, was the first important business at the convention of the Piano and Organ Workers' International Union.

SISTER SUPERIOR IGNORED WARNING

Fire-Escapes Must, However, Be Erected on Trinity College and Apostolic Building.

Fire-escapes must be erected on Trinity College and the adjoining apostolic building, or new structure. Acting Engineer Commissioner Harding has approved the reports of Fire Marshal Bieber and Building Inspector Ashford that the escapes are needed.

Mr. Ashford recommends that the sister superior of the college be informed she must have escapes erected by the time for the beginning of the September term of the college. This has also been approved.

The reports of the authorities on the matter show that the sister superior has been twice warned to have the escapes erected, but has paid no attention. The college is a handsome four-story building (a Michigan Avenue, east of the University grounds. The Commissioners say the fire-escapes are required to insure safety of pupils in dormitories.

BALTIMORE SENDS TENTS.

BALTIMORE, July 14.—Governor Warfield received an appeal from Millington for tents and at once ordered thirty to be sent to the town. They were shipped.

TEXAS GIRL'S LONG TRIP TO ANSWER PROPOSAL

Journeys to Aldenville, Pa., to Inspect Suitor—He Provided the Ticket.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 14.—All the way from Tloga, Tex., has come Miss Della Asher, pretty, twenty years old, and a school teacher, to inspect Andrew Martwick and his farm, at Aldenville, Wayne county. Martwick, who is also twenty, asked a matrimonial agency to find him a wife, and of the many letters he received one was from Miss Asher. The correspondence resulted in Martwick proposing and sending her a railroad ticket.

For the last six days he has driven from his home, nine miles out of Honesdale, to the Honesdale station. Yesterday it rained heavily and he did not appear, but Miss Asher did. If she is satisfied with him, with the farm and with the country, she will marry him. If not, he will buy her a return ticket.

WAGES REDUCED IN FALL RIVER.

FALL RIVER, Mass., July 14.—It was practically settled that a general reduction of wages in the cotton mills of Fall River would be ordered at once. It is expected that the proposed reduction will average 12 1/2 per cent. More than 25,000 operators will be affected.
